The Court is advised that the parties are in dispute as to whether Rule 30(b)(6) depositions should be permitted as part of the choice-of-law discovery. (See Order re Choice of Law Proceedings, Docket No. 601 ("Order").) The Order was entered on the basis of the parties' stipulation (Docket No. 552), and spells out the agreed scope of choice-of-law discovery. (Order, pp. 2-5.) Within that scope, the Order identifies no particular forms of discovery, and excludes no particular forms of discovery.

The parties' dispute with regard to Rule 30(b)(6) depositions should be presented to the Special Masters. (See Order No. 6.)
